

I totally disagree Morse code is not an art form, it is as the name implies a code, which is prevent many from advancing beyond the Technician class. I feel that we are doing the amateur radio hobby a disservice by not allowing it to move in to the Twenty-First century.